The XLT series of medium size buses from STARCRAFT offers an affordable, attractive and rugged transition between smaller cutaway chassis buses and expensive tour coaches. Designed for higher passenger counts, luggage loads and duty cycles, the XLT is the perfect solution for Tour Operators, Senior centers, Government Agencies and anyone needing to bridge the gap between lighter duty buses and large transit coaches.

The XLT is available on either a General Motors C5500 or International 3200 series medium duty chassis with diesel power and rugged transmissions for increased reliability and uptime.

Mounted to the rugged truck chassis is a fully jig welded steel cage structure encompassing all roof, floor, sidewall and rear wall frame members for a long lasting, secure body structure. Add to that our standard insulation, beautiful interiors, combination aluminum/fiberglass exteriors, including one piece seamless roofs and the result is a product ready to hit the street and stay there.
